

Team Lead Reproductive, Maternal health and Ageing (RMH) at WHO Regional Office based in Brazzaville, Congo

Dr Triphonie Nkurunziza is an accomplished Obstetrician Gynecologist with more than 25 years of practices in Public health with focus on reproductive, maternal, newborn and healthy ageing at operational, management and executive level. Native of Burundi, she has served as senior medical officer and chief medical officer at the University Teaching Hospital, Bujumbura Burundi from 1997 to 2005 and Minister of health from 2005 to 2007. She joined WHO in 2008 as Regional Advisor for Reproductive and Maternal Health. She has since been appointed as Team Lead for Reproductive, maternal health and ageing program (2013 to present). She also served as WHO representative respectively in Benin (2005), Algeria (2017-2018) and Equatorial Guinea in 2020.